JUNE 2026

The top things you need to know this month from Trafford's Safeguarding Children Partnership and Trafford's Safeguarding Adults Board:

1

TSAB Self-Neglect and Hoarding Resources

Thank you to everyone who provided feedback on The draft multi-agency self-neglect and hoarding resources. We heard from professionals about the different combinations of information that would help, e.g. information on legislation alongside practical resources to guide conversations, or checklist prompts to help identify hoarding behaviours. All the feedback has shaped the new Self Neglect and Hoarding resources on the TSAB website. We have used drop down boxes so professionals can cherry pick guidance relevant to the situation they are faced with.

Check out the resources and let us know what you think and keep a look out for the accompanying multi-agency training on the TSAB website.

Supreme Court Ruling on the Deprivation of Liberty Test:

The Supreme Court has delivered one of the most significant Court of Protection judgments in over a decade, fundamentally reshaping the law on the Deprivation of Liberty safeguards under Article 5 (right to liberty and security) of the European Convention of Human Rights. The judgement in the Attorney General for Northern Ireland summary concluded:

1. The Cheshire West “acid test” was wrong to treat continuous supervision and control combined with a lack of freedom to leave as determinative of deprivation of liberty.
2. A person lacking capacity for the relevant decisions may still be able to give valid subjective consent to their living and care arrangements, preventing Article 5 from being engaged.

More information is available on the updated Trafford APPP Resource and via the webinar by 39 Essex Chambers. Learning Disability England has also produced a helpful Supreme Court Judgement easy read summary.

TSAB Public Survey: Tell us what you think about Safeguarding Awareness & Communication

We are still asking people in Trafford to take part in a short survey about safeguarding awareness and communication.

The aim is to understand what people already know, improve how we share important messages, and reach more people in our communities.

It only takes about 10 minutes to complete, and your feedback will help shape improvements to safeguarding information locally.

We're working to make sure everyone knows how to recognise harm and get help when needed

YOUR VOICE MATTERS!

Foundations- Parenting Through Adversity Practice Guidance

Foundations produces Practice Guides to equip local leaders and practitioners with actionable evidence-based recommendations to develop, deliver and commission effective services, and help to achieve the outcomes in the Children's Social Care National Framework. Commissioned by the Department for Education, and produced by Foundations, this Guide marks the fifth in our series of evidence-based guidance for the sector, with a focus on families with children and young people aged 11–18 – complementing our previous Guide, which focused on babies and children aged 0–10. You can view the full Practice Guide, and it's associated research, here.

The Parenting Through Adversity \(11–18\) Practice Guide, shows how evidence-based parenting interventions can transform outcomes for families facing multiple and complex challenges. The evidence generated that underpins this new Guide shows that parenting support can help to:

- Improve emotional wellbeing for children and young people to help reduce the likelihood of low mood, social withdrawal and anxiety
- Strengthen parental confidence and mental health, enabling parents to provide more stable, nurturing environments
- Reduce behaviours that challenge among young people by creating more stable and secure home environments in which children and young people can grow and develop.
